Judge Peabody has rendered a decision in the matter of the will of Islain Jordan, late of Brunswick, deceased, which is being contested on the ground of the mental incapacity of the testator at the timel of making the will. The will was made about a week before Mr. Jordan became nakenowledgedly insane, and apportions his property anequally among his children, omitting entirely his wife. The case has occupied the attention of the court for several days, and in many respects has been an important one. Weston Thompson appeared for the potitioners in support of the will and George S. In their organization of the Senate the Democrats have resorted to the groasest outrage upon the people, having thrown law overboard and started on a mad race to steal Senator Harrison's east regardless of consequences.
